The following story is told of Prince Peter of Oldenburg, who is chief of all the Imperial Russian colleges for girls, and exercises the duties of his office with great diligence. On a recent occasion he decided to investigate for himself whether there were any grounds for the numerous complaints which had reached him of the food at the Smoolnig Convent, where 800 girls were educated. Proceeding to the institution just before the usual dining-hour, he avoided the main entrance, and walked straight towards the kitchen. At its entrance he met two soldiers carrying a huge steaming cauldron. "Halt!" he called out; "put that kettle down." The soldiers, of course, obeyed. "Bring me a spoon," added the Prince. The spoon was at once produced, but one of the soldiers ventured to begin a stammering remonstrance. "Hold your tongue," cried the Prince; "take off the lid. I insist on tasting it." No further objection was raised, and his highness took a large spoonful. "You call this soup," he exclaimed; "why, it is dirty water!" "It is, your highness," replied the soldier; "we have just been cleaning out the laundry."

Governor Robinson was asked why he did not make his son his private secre tary, and he replied with considerable feeling: "Because I think too much of my boy to set him riding on top of a bub-ble; he must prepare for honorable work in life; besides my family are not going to be fitted with offices."—[Poston to be fi

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with too frequent evacuation of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient can not account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin militish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance.
